

Michelle Peavy

THE FINAL NOTE

Michelle Peavy

Michelle Peavy is described as a multi-dimensional – charismatic keynote speaker, a dynamic singer, and a successful businesswoman.

Her story is inspirational: she has twice defeated cancer. She is a courageous woman, traveling all across North America telling her story and inspiring others to live a fearless life – and to understand everything that happens, the good and the bad, as being, in her own words, “I came to the fork in the road and choice the fearless route and so my journey begins.”

Michelle has recently released a new CD, one in which she shares her story about her journey on the FREEWAY OF LIFE and how she became THE FINAL NOTE™.

She is also a closing keynote speaker/singer for several events in in North America such as, POWE, eWomenNetwork, Business of Bliss and Fearless Women’s Day.

She’s the President/Owner of Rimi and Company (www.rimipv.com) an executive recruiting firm for Houston, Calgary, and currently expanding into Toronto.

Her most recent project is the creation of an upcoming event in October 2011 called ALL Women.

Singer

As a singer, she currently performs the National Anthem for the NBA Houston Rockets. Also, she has performed as a warm up singer Jimmy Kimmel LIVE, America's Got Talent, eWomenNetwork Got Talent, the Business of Bliss, and expanding her repertoire as a closing Keynote Speaker/Singer for corporate conventions and events. In addition to singing, Michelle can be seen and heard on local TV commercials and radio.

“I came to a fork in the road and chose the Fearless route. And so my journey begins.”

The only Canadian featured in Mary Ann Halpin’s Fearless Women, Fearless Wisdom photography book, Michelle Peavy brings Fearless to a whole new level, cross border. Born in Kingston, Ontario, Canada, Michelle learned she had stage three cervical cancer at only 29 years old. A recent newcomer to Houston, Texas at the time, Michelle soon grappled with the complex American medical system and the toughest fight of all her life.

During this process, Michelle underwent intensive and invasive treatments. Her hope was temporarily elated when doctors revealed that her cancer cells were gone following a clinical trial, only to be ripped into the throes of devastation when cancer cells reappeared eight years later.

Michelle knew that she was meant for something greater. She fought her battle with only the strength a cancer patient has, and survived. Michelle has been cancer free since 2001.

Michelle Peavy Q& A

1. What makes you a Fearless Woman?

My journey has always been a fearless one. You can't run from your fears; they will always chase you unless you face them straight on. When I learned I had terminal cancer, "giving up" seemed easier than fighting. To be a fearless woman is to understand the pain you have experienced and make the choice to use everything to fight for what you believe in. My mission is to make a difference in the lives of other women to discover their Fearlessness.

2. Can you please explain your brand identity: The Final Note?

As dialogue can express fearless through words, music elevates fearless through song. The Final Note, is me as the closing presenter (at conferences and conventions) where I sing to awaken the sleeping giant inside of each audience member, leaving a lasting and musical foot print.

3. Why should people come out to the ALL Women event in October 2011?

Celebration of ALL Women is about honoring ALL women in our lives. Whether you are a husband, son, daughter, teacher, Coach. Women offer so much to the world. We want to embrace our diversity, differences, opinions, expectations and bring it all together to create harmony in the human race.

4. When people hear Michelle Peavy, what do you want them to think, know?

My goal is to help not only ALL women, but ALL people to live a fearless life through song by remembering me as The Final Note. So the next time someone stops themselves from fighting a battle worth fighting or pursuing impossible dreams, I want them to remember they're worth this fight, and then blare their speakers to the songs or final notes that inspires them.

5. What words of wisdom do you follow?

I follow my own words - I came to the fork in the road and chose the Fearless route, and so my journey begins.
